

Replenishment systems

Go-Fix, the replenishment system of Multi-Fix, is suitable for any industrial company with its own production or assembly line, repetitively using the same fasteners or specials.

Go-Fix

The various options for a replenishment system are discussed with you, where Multi-Fix advise as to which system is best for you. This depends, among other things, on your needs, working methods and structure.

Why choose a bin-system?

Purchasing costs

Your purchasing department is no longer burdened with determining the purchasing requirements and actually sending the purchase order. If you like we can send a (digital) order confirmation for the bins supplied by us. The scanned bins are handled as a purchase order.

Administration costs

Your accounting department will no longer be burdened with “separate” bills containing only a few lines. The invoice you receive is for a full replenishment. The predetermined period is also used as invoice date. Hence you receive 1 periodic invoice.

Administrative expenses

Reporting and determining appropriate reserves for each article of the used items is often a time consuming business. With the shift to a Go-Fix system this issue is resolved. We will report your usage per required or predetermined period. Following the report and in consultation with you, the quantity per bin is re-established and implemented immediately.

Internal distribution costs

By implementing a Go-Fix system, you are assured of never missing a hold in fasteners. Each production / assembly line or workspace if applicable, can be equipped with the appropriate fasteners.

“By implementing a Go-Fix system, you are assured of never missing a hold in fasteners”

“Which system is best for you depends on your needs, working methods and structure”

This will render internal shifting of materials obsolete. Each product has a predetermined spot in your logistics. Staff will no longer lose time searching for, or retrieving goods and will work more efficiently.

Inventory costs

Your total inventory as well as your storage costs are reduced. The stock is constantly updated and therefore there is never too much of an article in stock. Furthermore, the Go-Fix system is delivered in racks with matching boxes. This is a significant savings in both your inventory and your space.

For more information on the bin system, please visit our website: www.multifixgroup.nl

“Your total inventory as well as your storage costs are reduced”